

ARMY INSTITUTE OF LAW CENTRE FOR GENDER JUSTICE

(Faculty coordinator: Dr. Amrita Rathi)

The Army Institute of Law Centre for Gender Justice entails to end or atleast tries to end the inequalities between men and women, and amongst those who do not correlate to any socially defined genders.

We at ACGJ aim to promote equality among all genders, and make the college and the society, a more progressive environment to live in. Gender equality is fundamentally linked to human development and human rights. We wish to expand opportunities for all genders and create better opportunities for them, without any bias. We aim to limit the patriarchal hierarchy and empower women and their independence, and to decentralise rigid gender roles and stereotypes. We want to bring a positive and reformative change in the society, and free people from the vicious cycle of discrimination.

MEET OUR TEAM:

1. Dr. Amrita Rathi: The ACGJ team is led by Dr. Amrita Rathi, who yearns gender justice. She is currently Assistant Professor of Law at Army Institute of Law, Mohali.
2. Prashant Singh: He is the senior member of ACGJ, currently in his 4th year as a law student at Army institute of Law, Mohali. He feels the need to empower women and end their disparities.
3. Vibhuti Devgan: She is also the senior member of ACGJ, currently pursuing law at Army Institute of Law, Mohali. She is a gender equality enthusiast and a feminist who wishes to bring a change in the rigid gender roles.
4. Tanvi Mishra: She is a third-year law student at Army Institute of Law, Mohali. She feels the need to empower women and their independent role in the society.
5. Jaanvi Sharma: She is the junior-most member of the team of ACGJ, currently pursuing law at Army Institute of Law, Mohali. She believes in ending patriarchal systems, and redressing existing disparities among all genders.