The Ail CENTRE FOR SOCIAL SCIENCES (ACSS) recently hosted a dynamic event celebrating our mother tongue HINDI featuring both alluring events of poetry recitation and a spell bee competition.

The poetry recitation was a highlight, with participants delivering evocative performances. Anshika Tiwari from the second year won the first place with her captivating and enthralling recitation, and Aamodi from first year was declared as the runner-up, impressing the audience with her expressive delivery.

The spell bee competition followed, consisting of four challenging rounds . There was a tough competition between 10 teams. The team comprising of Anshika Tiwari and Delisha of the second year emerged as the winners and showcased their knowledge of Hindi language. Rudra and Parveen of first year were declared as runners-up. The winners demonstrated their exceptional command over grammar and knowledge of Hindi vocabulary.

The event attracted a diverse audience from different academic years, all coming together to support the performers and competitors. The atmosphere was vibrant and enthusiastic, reflecting the community's commitment to celebrate our Hindi language.

In summary, the ACSS's event was a resounding success, marking reverence to our mother tongue through inspiring poetry and a spirited spell bee, and fostering a sense of pride and unity among all the attendees.
