From the Principal's Desk

The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort and convenience, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy.

Martin Luther King, Jr.

The world today stands at a juncture where humanity is besieged with a catastrophic situation, unprecedented in modern history. The challenge that these times pose to mankind can only be surmounted with the indomitable human spirit that each one of us needs to invoke.

We, at Army Institute of Law, strive to propel the budding minds into insightful action as they choose to shape their destiny in the cerebrally stimulating environs of this premier Law Institute of India and enable them to face any challenge that they may face in their future career.

I, as the Principal of this esteemed Institute would like to take this opportunity to assure every aspirant who chooses to be groomed here, that no effort would be spared to intellectually elevate you in keeping with the highest standards of contemporary education. The accomplished faculty, student centric pedagogy, modern infrastructure, academic and extra-curricular activities will facilitate the overall development of students and nurture their talents.

Having said that, I would also like to apprise you of the fact that being an Army managed Institute, discipline is the bedrock of the Institute's core values and candidates who join the AIL family are expected to abide by and strengthen the rules and regulations uncompromisingly.

As you go through the prospectus, you will become increasingly aware of the immense opportunities that the Institute offers for your growth and development into global citizens.

We look forward to your enriching and a mutually rewarding association with us.

God bless!

Dr Tejinder Kaur

Principal

AIL AT A GLANCE

The Army Institute of Law (AIL) is a private unaided institute which was established in July 1999 by the Indian Army under the aegis of the Army Welfare Education Society (AWES) at its interim location at Patiala. The Institute is permanently affiliated to The Punjabi University, Patiala and approved by the Bar Council of India. In July 2003, the Institute shifted to its current location at Sector 68, Mohali, Punjab. On 01 December, 2003, the Mohali Campus was inaugurated by H.E. Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam, the then President of India. AIL has a magnificent residential campus in an impressive architectural structure in the vicinity of Chandigarh and Punjab & Haryana High Court. It conducts a five year BA LLB and one year LLM course.

AIL has emerged as a hub of scholastic brilliance and owes this to a team of highly qualified and erudite faculty members who lend a critical perspective to contemporary issues facilitating students' comprehension and interpretation of various laws and statutes. With 'Aspire & Achieve' as its motto, the Institute has grown as a Centre of Excellence in the field of legal education. Army Institute of Law continues to pace ahead on the growth trajectory in consonance with the highest standards in the field of education. This is amplified in its aims and objectives, pedagogical practices, infrastructure and other features, that facilitate learning.

1. Aims and Objectives

AIL, as a centre of excellence in the field of legal education, aims to:

- Impart high quality legal education and professional training to its students.
- Enable its students to pursue a career at the Bar, Judicial Services, Civil Services, Armed Forces, Corporate Houses and such other organizations.
- Transform students as embodiment of dignity, ethical and moral values and a visible sense of National pride.

2. Courses Offered

- BA LLB (Five Yr): By the time a student completes the five year integrated programme he/she is expected to be adequately equipped with knowledge of law required to become a full-fledged responsible member of the legal profession.
- LLM (One Yr): The LLM course has been adopted with the objective of imparting in depth knowledge in the field of law with specializations. The Programme is designed to put students on a strong footing to undertake jobs in teaching and other sectors at the National and International level. Students are awarded the Post Graduate Degree after successful completion of the one year programme.

3. Curriculum

Refer to Appendix-I at page no. 32.

4. Pedagogy

The methodology adopted at AIL consists of intensive/extensive classroom sessions that are participative and interactive. These are reinforced with clinical training in law and supplemented by individual as well as collective projects, assignments, seminars and presentations. Students are continuously evaluated and rewarded for their performances.

5. Attendance Rules

The Law Journal is dedicated to increasing in-depth knowledge of subjects across disciplines with the cherished objective of enhancing intellectual quotient and expanding interdisciplinary knowledge besides initiating dialogue and debate.

(b) AILITE- Annual Magazine

It is an annual cultural and scholarly rendition of Student's creativity and academic excellence. The contributions to the magazine made by students in the form of essays, articles or poems, adequately speak about their literary prowess and their sensitivity to the contemporary burning issues. There is no sphere of life that has remained untouched and that the AILians are not actively engaged in. From Moots, Debates and Declamations to Dance, Drama, Short- Skit, and Street Play to Sports AIL students are making their presence felt everywhere and THE AILITE MAGAZINE is a soulful and chronological representation of all these events. Every student is a blissful recipient of THE AILITE at the end of each academic session.

(c) The Essence-Quarterly Newsletter

The Essence is a quarterly newsletter covering all events, opportunities and happenings in the Institute. The Students are encourage to covers the various events, further honing their writings skills and encouraging them to give an outlet to their creativity.

SOCIETIES @ AIL

(a) AIL Moot Court Society

Mooting is the oral presentation of a legal issue or problem against an opposing counsel and before a Judge. It is perhaps the closest experience that a student can have whilst at university to appearing in a Court. Mooting helps in building the confidence in public speaking, general research, and presentation skills. Keeping in mind the relevance of mooting for law students the Army Institute of Law takes keen interest in this segment of law-learning via its Moot Court Society whereby two Intra-Institute Moot Court Competitions are conducted annually. One of these is the Novices Moot Court Competition which is held exclusively for the participation of First year students with the aim of making them shed their inhibitions regarding mooting. The other competition is the Intra-Institute Moot Court Competition which is open for participation by students from second year to the fifth year. The Institute is also a proud host of its Annual National Inter-College Moot Court Competition-Checkmate, in which teams from various National and other prestigious law colleges participate. From the academic year 2019-20, Army Institute of Law in collaboration with Surana&Surana International Attorneys, initiated with another National Level Moot Court Competition-Surana&Surana and Army Institute of Law National Family Law Moot Court Competition. The Institute awards the winners of the competition with certificates, cash prizes and a running trophy. Besides hosting these events the institute also participates in various National and International Moot Court Competitions.

(b) AIL Debating Society

The AIL debating society encourages students to develop their oratory skills by their participation in various Intra and inter institute debates, extempore competitions and MUNs. An Intra-Institute Debate is organized every year to encourage maximum participation of the students. The Institute awards the winners of the competition with cash prizes and a running trophy.

(c) Legal Aid Cell

The avowed purpose of the Legal Aid Cell is to promote access to the legal system, whereby every person has access to the legal process irrespective of social or economic incapacity. The Army Institute of Law Legal Aid Cell is headed by the faculty coordinator and students. The cell endeavors to sensitize students to the problems being faced by the indigent and inculcate a sense of social responsibility in the students. Further, the course is meant to act as a platform for introducing the students to functioning of the legal system. The Legal Aid Initiative at AIL has been fashioned not as a mere means of aiding litigation, but as an outreach program directed at community welfare. Since a majority of our fellow countrymen do not enjoy easy access to legal services, the cell seeks to address this problem by dispensing free legal and para-legal services. The mandate of AIL Legal Aid seeks to:

- Assist the general public in better interpretation of the rights bestowed upon them and spread awareness.
- Play a constructive role in counseling people opting for legal recourse.
- To encourage pre-litigation services and out of Court settlements.
- To undertake research and development programs, while also serving as a depository of legal matters.
- To serve as a potent platform where people can inquire about their grievances in person or through the online portal

(d) Centre for research in Corporate Law & Governance (CRCLG)

Centre for research in Corporate Law & Governance (CRCLG), is created with the objective to promote interdisciplinary research in the field of corporate law & governance. The purpose of the CRCLG focuses on following aspects: •To promote comprehensive research preparing the students for viewing the world in an inter-disciplinary manner, endowing them with analytical skills to critically evaluate laws on corporate law & governance. •To conduct study of corporate law and governance within its economic, business and legal context, with particular regard to how corporate law and governance mechanisms facilitate or inhibit economic activity. •To provide a new way of thinking about the growing challenges in corporate law & governance and how to respond to them. •To conduct workshops, seminars, conferences, panel discussions, guest lecturers in order to adopt an explicitly comparative approach and develop strategies for ensuring sustainable development and success in the most competitive world. .

(e) Army Institute of Law, Centre for Research in Social Sciences (ACRSS)

The Army Institute of Law, Centre for Research in Social Sciences has been conceptualized with the objective to sensitize the youth towards social concerns which plague the contemporary society and equip them efficiently deal with these concerns by facilitating academic research across multiple disciplines.

The organization aims to:

- Foster a scientific temper, humanism and the spirit of inquiry in the students, as well as promote constructive dialogue through debates, group discussions and interactive lectures that focus on economy, polity, psychology, and other relevant disciplines.
- Introduce a hands-on approach to learning, as well as acquaint the students to the ground realities by conducting field trips to sites of historical and cultural significance, shelter homes, rehabilitation centres etc, and documenting the same through videos.
- Cultivate a new outlook towards Social Sciences by imparting a better understanding of research methodologies.
- Promote an interest in vernacular languages and provide a conducive environment for distinct cultural identities to coexist and flourish.

(f) Centre for Research in Constitutional Law and Policy (CRCLP)

Centre for Research in Constitutional Law and Policy (CRCLP) has been established with an objective to provide a platform to the students to bring forth their ideas on recent developments on constitutional law and promote research on constitutional and policy matters. CRCLP aims to initiate a dialogue on contemporary constitutional dynamics with maximum students' participation. With the motto Labor Omnia Vincit (work conquers all), the Centre vigorously works to enrich constitutional scholarship in an innovative way via offline and online mediums. Centre also provides assistance to students participating in various moot courts, quiz competitions, judgment writing competitions etc. Thereby, Centre aims to ignite a sense of inquiry and critical legal aptitude amongst students while analyzing the constitutional developments around them.
