

Army Institute of Law Journal

Name of the Journal:

Army Institute of Law Journal [ISSN No: 0975-8208] is a peer-reviewed journal. The journal is published annually. It is listed in the UGC Consortium for Academic and Research Ethics (CARE) list.

Aim and Scope:

The journal is an endeavor to enhance awareness of contemporary legal issues, engage in multi-disciplinary study, and analyze the various issues that show the dynamism of law. The journal seeks to provide a platform for academicians, professionals, researchers, and students to contribute to multi-disciplinary discussions on the themes of law, justice, and society. The journal is guided by an editorial committee. It is an excellent opportunity for intellectuals to express innovative and practical writings, latest developments and reformative solutions that can contribute further in the area of law and research.

Authorship Criteria:

The submission of papers is open only for Teachers/Academicians/Professionals and Ph.D. Research Scholars. Only one co-author shall be allowed. Students can be co-author.

Publishing schedule:

The Army Institute of Law Journal is an annual Journal. A call for papers is issued every year from July to August. On receipt of the contribution, the Constituted Committee shall screen it to satisfy itself about the conformity of the contribution with the AIL conditions and policy for submission of the manuscripts. The screened work shall be assessed by the referees.

In case the article is not published, then the author shall be intimated by the Institute through e-mail and he/she may then send it for publication elsewhere.

Copyright:

Copyright of all entries received shall exclusively vest with the Army Institute of Law. The submission of work would imply that the contributor has assigned such rights to AIL on its publication in the journal.

Publication ethics and related editorial policies:

- All authors are to certify that the paper submitted is a piece of original and bonafide research work and has not been published or submitted for publication elsewhere.
- All manuscripts must be accompanied by:
 - a. A covering letter with the name(s) of the author(s), official designation institution/affiliation, the title of the manuscript, and contact information (correspondence address, email, phone number, etc).
